Fantasy illustrator, artist, poet, singer-songwriter and composer born in the Canary Islands (Spain). Her music could be considered as ETHEREAL GOTHIC devoted to the spectral and spellbinding dark side of fairytales. Melodies that weave a fantastic and landscape: the light, the shade... the ghost and the fairy. A journey full of contrasts through an angelic voice that manages well in genres that goes from dark new age to celtic pop. "She may be at the brink of defining a new style of music" (Gods of Music) Priscilla's music appeared in internet back in 2002 and with over two million plays and downloads she has become an independent icon in her genre. Her first demo "I steal the leaves" was in the top list of most sold new age albums at mp3.com. Her songs have been featured in radio and press all around the world and also have been a guest artist in several indie festivals promoting emerging artists. After declining up to nine record deals she decided to remain honest to the spirit of her music creating her own company YIDNETH defending her own style and skills as a composer and not only a vocalist. She also created along with her partner Héctor Corcín, a platform for the promotion of new age independent musicians "Nuevas Músicas NM" Thus, "Ancient Shadows: the ghost and the fairy" is a project that will promote also her fantasy illustrations and this has been possible thanks to the donations of her fans and listeners and fully written, produced and performed by her. She is also supported by well established writers such as David Riché (UK) from Fairiesworld, and as a singer she has collaborated in a wealth of projects including soundtracks, charity festivals and several cds. Now the time has come for her own first full cd to take shape as a work with over an hour of music and a book of exclusive illustrations that hopefully will allow many to discover this rising talent.
